Every Shade Equipped with Vudor Safety Wind Device

Vudor Porch Shades Are Indelibly Stained in Pleasing Shades Olive, Dark Green, Dark Brown, Mottled Olive Green, Dark Brown Alternated with Tan, Dark Brown Alternated with Mottled Olive Green.

The colors harmonize with the color scheme of your house and will withstand the action of the weather. Vudor Porch Shades retain their newness for many seasons.

Vudor Shades are never painted nor dipped. Painted shades are objectionable, as they make a porch very hot. The painted surface absorbs the heat, instead of repelling it. The stained surface of Vudors does not reflect the sun's rays and keeps the porch shady and cool when outside it is "sizzling" hot.

All Vudor Porch Shades are re-enforced at both edges and the wider shades in the center with double warps. This enormously increases their durability.

All Vudor Porch Shades have a full drop of eight feet when in use. Other advertised shades are six inches shorter.

Additional recruits for the cavalry unit that is being completed at Norwich university were secured last evening when Ernest Thompson and Guy George enlisted at the temporary headquarters of Lieutenant Berry and Private Gelson at Hotel Barre. Messrs. Thompson and George went to Northfield this morning along with Bert Mercer, who was accepted for service early in the week. John McHugo, James Gibson and Joseph Williams, whose enlistments were registered almost as soon as recruiting headquarters was opened, returned from Northfield last night, after passing the physical examination. The men were assigned suits and told to report to-morrow.

Attaches at the Central Vermont station, started by huge columns of smoke billowing out of the turning table pit at the south end of the freight yard, called the auto fire truck to the scene Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. A pile of rubbish under the table deck was burning briskly when the regulars arrived and in another moment would have encompassed the wooden structure used to set the engines in the right direction. Vigorous application of the chemical solution extinguished the blaze. Acting Chief Carpenter states that outbreaks of fire have been at a minimum this year and if the first half year, ending a week from to-day is reached without any fires, a record for the organized fire department will have been established.
